Assam Institute of Management

(A Government of Assam Society)

AIM GENESIS

The Assam Institute of Management was established in 1988 as an autonomous institute of Government of Assam. Prior to that, several diagnostic studies were conducted by the State Government, which identified management inefficiency and dearth of professionally trained management personnel as the main reason for the underperformance of the State Level Public Enterprises and various government sponsored projects. In that context, the Government of Assam promoted the Assam Institute of Management as an autonomous institute under the Public Enterprises Department. In 1997, the Government of Assam changed the Institute's reporting department by a Cabinet Resolution under its Administrative Reforms Programme. Considering the contribution of the Institute in management education, the Government of Assam has restructured and broadened the Governing Body of the Institute and vide a circular in September, 2008, the Institute was brought under the Directorate of Technical Education of Government of Assam. In 2022, the Institute has been brought under the Directorate of Higher Education of Government of Assam.

AIM VISION

Management education, training and development have been regarded as one of the basic human development requirements in the development process of any region. It is believed that inadequate manpower development of the North East Region in the field of Management has been the cause of its relative underdevelopment. The Vision for AIM is to 'develop appropriate human capital infrastructure to meet the growing developmental needs of the strategically located and resource-rich North Eastern Region of India'.

AIM MISSION

The mission of the Assam Institute of Management is to be a CENTRE OF EXCELLENCE by carrying out teaching, training, research, consultancy and networking in the field of Management as also in allied disciplines in the most effective manner.

AIM OBJECTIVES

The aim and objectives of the Assam Institute of Management, laid down to work towards this mission, are:

1. To provide for and promote education and training in various fields of management and allied disciplines;
2. To assist organisations in problem-solving and improving their functioning;
3. To carry out conceptual and applied research in fields relevant to regional development; and
4. To interact with industries and institutions to further the management movement and thus facilitate regional development

AIM ACCOMPLISHMENTS SO FAR

A true Institute of management has to not only provide management education, but also carry out research, undertake consultancy works and conduct management development and training programmes. AIM has excelled in all these areas. Since its inception, AIM has pioneered well designed management education and executive development programmes in North-East. The Institute has assisted many government and semi-government organisations through management consultancies and studies. The institute has conducted more than 300 Management Development Programmes with participants from State and Central Government departments and undertakings as well as private sector organisations. Today, AIM graduates are found in various parts of India as well as the Globe, working in organisations of repute. AIM faculty has also won national recognition in the field of research. With its multifarious activities, AIM has been able to carve a niche for itself in the national management scenario. However, there is a long way to go and AIM is fully aware of the challenges ahead.

THE SALIENT FEATURES OF AIM MBA PROGRAMME

The AIM MBA Programme is one of the most unique and innovative programmes in the country. It has introduced courses and programmes which are now being emulated by many leading institutes of the country. The highlights are:

- i) Trimester system of education: AIM MBA programme follows the trimester system. Such a system makes it possible to broaden the course contents and introduce more innovative and contemporary courses.
- ii) Committed and dedicated band of full-time faculty: AIM has a very versatile set of fulltime faculty members, with substantial organisational experience. They get regular opportunities to develop and upgrade themselves, by presenting papers in National and International Seminars, through interactions with industry personnel and leaders and by attending faculty development programmes.
- iii) Strict adherence to a time-bound Academic Calendar: At the beginning of each academic year, each student is given a printed academic calendar where the dates of End term tests, holidays and any other student related activities are clearly specified. Students are required to strictly adhere to the calendar and plan their own schedules accordingly. This ensures course completion in time and makes the students disciplined & time bound.
- iv) Unfailing compliance to norms of the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) and Assam Science and Technology University (ASTU): AIM is very conscious about complying with the AICTE & ASTU norms, in terms of course content, contact sessions, programme structure and evaluation guidelines.
- v) Compulsory and comprehensive computer education: The institute has a fully functional Computer Laboratory with LAN, multimedia access with Language Lab. Computer literacy is a must in AIM. In addition, AIM is offering advanced programmes for interested students in Computer Based Management. Students are allowed considerable freedom regarding access to the institutes' computer facilities along with Wi-Fi facilities.

- vi) Strong inputs of case studies and other real life inputs: In line with the trends in the premier management institutes of the world, and keeping the background of the students in mind, AIM ensures an adequate balance between cases, lectures, assignments, field studies and project works for its students.
- vii) Continuous stress on participants' self-development and improvement of their communication abilities: AIM believes that students of the NE require soft skills development so that they can compete with graduates of other leading management institutes. Accordingly, AIM spends considerable time and efforts in developing the communication and presentation skills of its students. The institute also takes help of external organizations in this regard. The students are required to organise events, attend mock interviews etc, so that their individual skills are developed. Written analysis and Communication (WAC) and Executive Effectiveness (EE) are two papers which are conducted round the year to emphasise on the skill requirements of the students.
- viii) Continuous evaluation and feedback: In AIM, evaluation is done on a continuous basis. Apart from end-term examinations, the students are evaluated on the basis of their class performance, presentations, class assignments, quizzes, projects etc. The students are given regular feedback about their performances. Necessary counseling is also done as and when required.
- ix) Inclusion of human values and ethics, exposure to Yogasana: AIM is one of the first institutes in India where values and ethics have been integrated to the learning process on a compulsory basis. The students are required to attend programmes on spirituality and Yoga conducted by Vivekananda Kendra, Guwahati. They also do compulsory social works among the socially deprived section of the society. Ethics and Non Corporate Management is a unique paper of the Institute.
- x) State-of-the-Art syllabus, which is continuously upgraded: The institute constantly upgrades and modifies its syllabus. The institute interacts with leading management educators and industry leaders to find out industrial requirements and contemporary management trends. On the basis of information garnered, the institute revises its syllabus and teaching inputs to make its students “industry ready” by the time they graduate.
- xi) Regular interactions with industry through industrial visits, guest lectures etc: To augment the learning process, the students are taken on industrial visits to local units, Numaligarh Refinery Ltd, along with out-side North East visit. at Goa and International visit at Malaysia where they interact with field personnel to get realistic input into corporate lives. The institute also gets frequent guest speakers from industry, academia and bureaucracy to talk and interact with the students.
- xii) Heavy and continuous workloads with limited number of holidays: The learning workload is very heavy and students have to come fully prepared to class. Students are expected to study at least four hours every day. The institute has fewer holidays than others. Classes are often held on holidays.

THE MBA PROGRAMME - OVERALL PROGRAMME DESIGN

The AIM two-year Master of Business Administration (MBA) programme is designed by an Academic Council, formed by the Government of Assam. The programme is affiliated to Assam Science and Technology University (ASTU) and approved by All India Council for Technical Education, AICTE a Statutory Body of the Government of India for approving such courses. The papers have been selected and designed after taking help from leading management educators and practitioners.

Each academic year would be divided into three terms, each term being called a trimester. Thus there would be six trimesters in the entire programme of two years. Each of the 6 trimesters would be of about 13 weeks. The first year curriculum would be common to all the students. The second year would contain core papers and optional papers leading to dual specialization.

The core and optional courses are so designed that each term builds upon the courses taught in the previous term, as well as the field experience. Formal classroom sessions would be supplemented by frequent guest lectures from visiting scholars, practitioners, administrators and organisation leaders. In addition, the students would have to frequently carry out field studies that would involve outdoor works. It has to be borne in mind by the applicants that the two-year MBA programme would be very heavy and demanding in nature. Right from day one, the participants would be subjected to a heavy workload. Normally three or four sessions would be held in a day, but the participants would have to devote equal amount of time every day for self-study. The Institute expects students to use its library resources effectively.

Therefore, it is imperative that those who are keen to join in the Assam Institute of Management are willing to work hard, are ready to make minor sacrifices and would devote most of their next two years to their studies and the various course requirements.
